Exhibition concept

Art is one of those areas where language borders are not terrible. It is understandable in every country, regardless of lifestyle and culture. We are pleased to present you an exhibition of authors who draw their inspiration from the infinite variety of their originality. Our eyes are focused on the future and we would like to visualize dreams and thoughts about the future.

Greek project Next Art Week in Greece includes the following programs:

- 1) EXHIBITION & ART COMPETITION
- 2) ALL-GREEK CHARITY AUCTION
- 3) WORKSHOPS: international workshops and demo classes

EXHIBITION AND COMPETITION

The exhibition will be held in the popular commercial gallery Myró, located in the prestigious area of Thessaloniki, near the White Tower and the Archaeological Museum. Simultaneously with the exhibition, a competition will be held, at which the winners of the competition program of the exhibition will be determined.

Competition program includes:

- painting competition
- graphics competition
- competition of arts and crafts and textile art
- sculpture competition
- photography competition

The works presented at the exhibition will be judged by famous Greek and European artists, patrons of art, gallery owners and media representatives.

CHARITY AUCTION

In order to attract attention to the exhibition a charity auction will be organized. Representatives from the political and cultural establishment of Thessaloniki are invited to the event. Funds received as a result of the auction, will go to the fund to support children.

Any participant has the opportunity to put his picture at auction at a minimum cost of 100 euros. At the same time, the author receives 30%, the organizers of the auction receive 20%, and 50% go to the fund to support Greek children.

MASTER CLASSES, DEMO CLASSES

During the exhibition, a series of educational programs will be held, aimed at cultural exchange and acquaintance of the Greek audience with the artists participating in the exhibition.

The program is presented in two forms: a master class and demo classes.

Conducted master classes by invited artists from Europe. Also, full-time exhibitors can hold a master class or a demo class for a Greek audience (translator is provided).

Brief information about the venue of the exhibition - the gallery Myrò

A large number of European artists began their careers with an exhibition in the Greek gallery Myrò! Myrò Gallery functions as a multi-dimensional gallery of contemporary art since 2011, with an annual schedule of exhibitions in its distinguishable spaces, and shows the works and projects of hundreds of artists from Europe and America. Occupying a significant place in the visual arts in Greece, and especially in the city of Thessaloniki, within the distinguishable halls of which it consisted, the gallery has a central entrance at Nikiforu Fokas Street 8, next to the landmark "Lefkos Pyrgos" (White Tower), in the historical center of the city. The spaces that are part of the Myro Gallery update the parallel exhibitions once a month, opening them on the same evening.
